HEP in Brazil and LOC

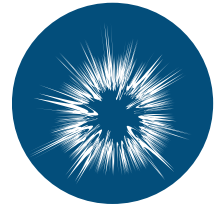

BEGINNING

Over four decades ago Brazilians started joining HEP international collaborations.

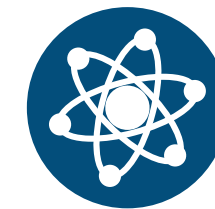

BEYOND CERN

The HEP community is involved in Pierre Auger, CTA, SWGO, DUNE, SBND, DESI

BEGINING WITH CERN

Brazilian experimental physicists participated in the NA22 and DELPHI experiments at CERN. International Cooperation Agreements (ICAs) with CERN were signed in 1990 and 2006.

MAJOR EXPERIMENTS

Brazil participates in the four LHC experiments: ALICE, ATLAS, CMS and LHCb.

BRAZIL @CERN

MINISTER OF SCIENCE

"Our participation is extremely important in several aspects. The first aspect is the scientific one, the possibility of exchanging researchers, the possibility of our Brazilian researchers being able to use CERN's research facilities, working with scientists from practically all over the world and many other important points that will support the development of advanced technologies in different sectors".

MARCOS PONTES

HISTORY

About 14 years ago, Brazil started the process of becoming an associate member of CERN

CERN ACCEPTANCE

In 2021 CERN accepted Brazil as a associate member

BRAZIL AS MEMBER

Brazil officially became an Associate Member of CERN (Europe's Organization for Nuclear Energy) on March 22, 2024.

RENAFAE/CBPF

"Better late than never. I think the initiative is absolutely essential. I talk to people on the street about these things and I think every Brazilian citizen will see this as a big step for our country."
